Overview of New England District Portfolio

There are over 180 Federal navigation projects maintained by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, New England District. Most of these are coastal harbors; there are also several river channels.

The projects include 11 commercial waterways with authorized depths of 35' or more, and a diverse array of channels and harbors which support the navigation needs of national defense, petroleum and other commercial goods shippers, commercial fishing vessels, and recreational boating.
